

During a six day business trip to Yemen in Sept 1997 the customer's chemistry graduate Pakistani employees asked me about visiting New York as tourists, and specifically about visiting the World Trade Centre. I warned them, saying:

"The same group that tried to blow-up the World Trade Centre in 1993 will try again, but next time they'll use a hijacked civilian airliner departing Logan airport as a missile."

The customer was a multi-billion dollar global conglomerate, the Hayel Saeed Anam Group at PO Box 5302 Taiz. After confirming my travel warning the managing director Saeed Alrobaidi arranged three meetings for me. First I was vetted by Yousef before being introduced to "the Engineer" (Khalid Sheikh Mohammed) the next morning, just before being taken to a meeting one mile from Al Qa'idah town. My employer was a British engineering company with an ex-US Special Forces, MACVSOG trained, CIA linked (via Billy Waugh) US salesman, Dave Dean.

I think Yousef is the brother or cousin of Ramzi bin al-Shibh; the Yemeni national described as a principle architect of 9/11	I have no doubt that the man introduced to me as 'the Engineer' is Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, and that 'Dino' is Ahmed al-Darbi

On Monday 22 September 1997 a Pakistani machine operator I was training asked me about visiting New York and specifically the World Trade Center. I repeated my travel warning about a hijacked civilian airliner being used as a missile to strike the towers. The next day a second Pakistan machine operator asked me the details of my warning and I highlighted boxcutters lethality and their ease of carriage in hold luggage on flights within the USA.

In a meeting setup by my customer's managing director, Saeed Alrobaidi of the HSA Group, Yousef & I walked to Al Qahira Castle overlooking the ancient Yemeni city of Taiz. We watched sunset before dining at my hotel. Yousef lamented the murder of Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, describing it as a lost last chance for peace. We both criticised Netanyahu. I repeated my 9/11 attack warning & we discussed motives, methods, etc Yousef is a facial recognition match for 9/11 accused Ramzi bin al Shibh, a Yemeni national detained in Guantanamo. I think they're blood related.
