

Dan Bar-Kochba - Recipient of my Last 9/11 Warning

by Anthony C Heaford

On 2 December 1997 I gave my last and most specific 9/11 style attack warning whilst working at a print factory in Brooklyn, specifically asking several people to pass my urgent and desperate warnings to authorities. The two machine operators I was training (pictured in photo #5 below) had asked if I would be visiting the World Trade Centre (WTC) and I gave an emphatic "No!" in answer. I repeated my 9/11 style hijacking fears to them, saying I expected the group that bombed the WTC in 1993 to try again but using a hijacked civilian airliner as a missile. I told them I conceived the danger after seeing the complete absence of any security whatsoever at Logan airport. They asked why I couldn't report it myself. I explained I was in a foreign country and approaching any security agency with such a warning could have dire consequences for me if misunderstood.

That's when the machine operators decided to call Mr. Barkochba, saying:

"This is the man to tell"

Company: Ultra Creative Pkg

Tel: 718 272 9100
Fax: 718 272 5424

I repeated my warning in detail to Mr. Barkochba and asked if he knew any security services. He responded that he did know 'some important people in that field' and that he would tell them - a vague but authoritative answer. That was when I felt I'd done everything I could to pass on my warnings about and fears of terrorists using a hijacked civilian airliner to attack the WTC.

Dan Bar-Kochba - Recipient of my Last 9/11 Warning

Dan Bar-Kochba

I never had any reason to suspect Mr Bar-Kochba; he was a pleasant man who'd listened to me attentively, and given me an assurance he'd pass my details and warning to his security service contact. I was never contacted back. When 9/11 did happen I felt anger and frustration that my warnings had not been acted on by security services, but in no way did I blame him for that.

It was only after April 2015, when I finally realised the significance of the same 9/11 warnings I'd given in September 1997 Yemen, that I began to question everything. I eventually got round to the warning I'd given in Brooklyn in December 1997 and upon looking at my customer database entry I saw and recalled Dan Bar-Kochba's name. And so I searched for him on the internet and the first result that came up was an Israeli's newspaper report talking about the 'Bar-Kochba Revolt' in Roman occupied Judea. The Haaretz newspaper article described it as "a disaster celebrated by Zionists" and a "folly of religious and nationalistic fanaticism" which "amounted to the destruction of Jewish life in Judea for over a millennium."

The screenshot shows the top of a Haaretz article. The navigation bar includes 'HAARETZ', 'Israel News', 'All sections', 'Gaza', '9 reasons', 'Syria - Iran - Israel', and 'Prince William - Israel'. The breadcrumb trail is 'Home > Jewish World'. The main title is 'The Bar Kochba Revolt: A Disaster Celebrated by Zionists on Lag Ba'Omer'. The sub-headline reads: 'On Lag Ba'Omer, Israeli children celebrate the Jewish rebels' victory over the Romans 2,000 years ago. Yet as victories go, Simon Bar Kochba's was a Pyrrhic one.' The author is 'Elon Gilad' with a 'Send me email alerts' button. The date and time are 'May 06, 2015 6:28 PM'.

Source: wikipedia: The revolt's leader was likely called Simon bar Koseba (Simon of Koseba). During the revolt Jewish Rabbi Akiva regarded Simon bar Koseba as the Jewish messiah, and gave him the name "Bar Kokhba" meaning "Son of the Star" in Aramaic, from the Star Prophecy verse from Numbers 24:17: "There shall come a star out of Jacob".

From this I concluded Dan Bar-Kochba is a Jewish Zionist very likely using an assumed last name, giving himself the Aramaic language, messianic title of 'Son of a Star'. This photo and the biography details are from Dan Bar-Kochba's Facebook page:

Further research revealed that in October 2015 (five months after I first widely shared my report about inspiring 9/11 with a travel warning I gave in 1997 Yemen), Transcontinental purchased Ultra Flex Packaging Corporation. Transcontinental said Ultra Flex employs close to 300 people and generated $72-million in annual revenues in its last fiscal year.

This planning permit shows Dan Bar-Kochba remained associated with Transcontinental's Ultra Flex until at least April 2018:

Permits

Permit #3451480 for Job #321201267: Plumbing

The permit application was filed on Apr 30, 2018. The permit was issued on Apr 30, 2018 with an expiration date of Apr 30, 2019. This is an initial permit, which means this is the first time the permit was applied for the job. The permit's current status is ISSUED. This is the first time the permit was applied for this job. The application was submitted as Professionally Certified. The work was planned to be carried out on the property owned by TRANSCONTINENTAL ULTRA FLEX COR (DAN BAR-KOCHBA was associated with the entity at that time). Owner's address was 975 ESSEX STREET, BROOKLYN, NY, 11208. Owners's phone was (718) 272-9100. This permit was issued for job of type A2, which lets a Permittee to perform multiple types of work that does not change the use, egress, or occupancy of the building. According to the permit application, the work was classified as Plumbing. The permit was given to NEW YORK PLBG-HTG-COOLING, which was represented by GREGORY QUATTLANDER. Permittee's phone number was (718) 441-6800. Permittee's license was listed as follows: MP 0001354 (Master Plumber).

Items of Note:

Prior to my visit to Ultra Flex I was given the customer details by my employer who called it 'Ultra Creative' (as per my database entry). Could that have been to deliberately obscure identities?

While on site in Brooklyn I didn't see a printing press, a practical requirement for anyone buying our ancillary plate mounting machine. Did Ultra Flex have any flexographic printing presses?

This sale was made by my employer's US sales agent Dave Dean. Dean is ex-US Special Forces, having served under Billy Waugh and with the highly secretive Studies and Observations Group in Vietnam. Billy Waugh went on to contract for the CIA, work that included training al Qaeda fighters in 1990s Yemen. And it was Dean who was behind my September 1997 visit to 9/11 terrorist Khalid Sheikh Mohammed's (KSM) front company in Yemen.

Speculation

If I was a senior business partner in Ultra Flex and a visiting service technician (as I was) had spoken to me about a 9/11 style attack, the first person I would have told is the salesman who'd sold me the machine. That would have been Dave Dean. I haven't spoken with Dean since the April 1997 exhibition where KSM's financiers had purchased the machine I installed in Yemen.

Given the Ultra Flex machine operators asked me about visiting the WTC, is it possible this was a test to see if I would give the same warning I'd given in Yemen when asked the same question?

Does Dan Barkochba or Ultra Flex Packaging have any connection to Urban Moving Systems, the New Jersey employer of the infamous 'Dancing Israelis' of 9/11? Are there any links from Dan Barkochba or his associates to the very suspect stock market activity that occurred prior to 9/11?
